

Giving/Sponsorship Terms and Conditions

Each sponsorship payment will cover the coaching costs of coaching participants who request financial subsidies. Sponsorships may cover up to 80% of the cost of the coaching program based on need. Sponsors are able to specify that funds are for a specific client. Please specify a participant via the message portion of the form. If there is no specific mention of a participant/client...the funds will be available to cover the costs of coaching for any clients/participants who request sponsorship.

Giving/Sponsorship payments are non-refundable and are not tax-deductible. Anointed Ambitions LLC is a for-profit business, and all donations are considered business income.

All payments are final. This does not include payments made for personal coaching services. Please see the website terms and conditions/coaching agreement for refund information regarding coaching services. This also does not include refund requests for Anointed Ambitions merchandise.

By making a giving/sponsorship donation, you agree to these terms.
